

What's the (hell) PM selection today?

1. What was the most impressive moment for you, and why?

- The most impressive moment for me is when นายอรรถกร, minister of agriculture, said ก้าวไกล, ex-party name, instead of กล้าธรรม. The reason I chose this moment is because I think it makes the tense atmosphere of the House become more easygoing. It is showing human nature that even though there is a serious situation, humans can normally say something wrong too.

2. What was the most disappointing moment for you, and why?

- When อนุทิน ชัยวีรกุล was selected as a temporary prime minister; I think most Thai citizens do not want him to be since his campaign, which to have legal cannabis markets, has more disadvantages to our nation. Comparing all of the candidates, in my opinion, none of them suit to be the next prime minister, so it is just to choose what candidate can negotiate with the People's Party which Bhumjaithai Party gives the best deal, mainly to change the constitution for them.

3. What do you think will happen in Thai politics over the next few months according to the outcome of today's House meeting?

- I believe that the next few months after we know the temporary prime minister will be more plain, not quite peaceful and stable, but there will not be anything for him to deal with. On the other hand, I think อนุทิน will not do what he promised to with the People's Party, changing the constitution, as he already got the prime minister chair that he want. Most of Thai people are now depressed with the announcement of the temporary prime minister, In contrast, they are now focusing more about ทักษิณ's news and will still intouch of its in the future.
